

Waveland towers near completion

BY JACQUI COCHRAN

The City of Waveland will have a return to normal water pressure shortly, as cleanup work on water towers nears conclusion.

Mayor John Longo stated at the Wednesday, October 17 board meeting that the job was larger than anticipated, causing the work to take longer than planned.

"The work should be finished in a week," said Longo.

The Wednesday meeting resulted in good news for Martin Luther King Memorial Park patrons, as the board approved to accept a $68.70 per month quote from Mississippi Power to install and maintain requested lighting improvements.

Board members expressed regret in accepting the resignation of Delores Richmond as a member of the Planning and Zoning Board.

Richmond's replacement was not named at the meeting.

Louis Brady of St. Joseph Street appeared before the board to solicit assistance in stopping the erosion of his property by a city drainage ditch.

Brady presented numerous photos showing the land falling away.

The aldermen approved a motion to have city engineer Ray Eaton examine the area and report back to the board.

Jake Jacob of Bay Cove Marina Inc. presented each board member with a packet of information concerning proposed dockside gambling and marina facilities at Bay Cove.

Included in the packet was a 1989 economic impact update report from the Atlantic City Convention and Visitors Bureau.

Other business included approval to send four property cleanup letters and to sell back a piece of property previously sold during the county tax sale.

Before adjourning, the board agreed to meet Tuesday, Nov. 6 at 6 p.m. in order to finish in time to watch election returns.

Bay St. Louis selects firm to design official city logo

BY TRACI BONNEY

How do you graphically represent progress with preservation?

That's what the City of Bay St. Louis has selected The Prime Time Group of Gulfport to figure out.

The city council voted Tuesday to contract with the graphic design company to conceive and draw a logo that will reflect the various aspects of life in Bay St.

Louis.

Michael Cuevas, clerk of council and administrative assistant to the mayor, said the council has been concerned with obtaining a strong logo since Favre entered office in July of 1989.

"We started by comparing logos of other cities to see if any of them would stir some spark of imagination," she said. "We finally decided our best bet was to advertise for proposals from companies to design a logo."

The city also sent letters to university and community college art departments, commercial artists and printing companies in an effort to procure a variety of proposals.

A committee comprised of Cuevas, Favre and City Clerk Kay Johnson was formed to study the seven proposals that were received. After spending many hours going through them, the committee narrowed the candidates to three.

"There was discussion of having a competition open to the public," Cuevas said, "but time and cost considerations ruled out that idea."

After reviewing the final three proposals, the committee recommended The Prime Time Group to the city council, who approved the recommendation.

Cuevas said Ted Riemann, president and founder of the company, was excited to hear his company had won the opportunity to design the logo.

"WalkAmerica" draws locals by the packs

The March of Dimes annual "WalkAmerica" fundraiser took off on step Saturday, October 20 down Beach Blvd. The 10k walk began at the Bay St. Louis bridge and ended at Buccaneer Park in Waveland. Walkers were treated to lunch courtesy of Pizza Hut, Coca-Cola and Sudway Sandwiches. Prizes were awarded to the highest money raisers. The sponsorship of local merchants, businesses and schools were displayed by T-shirts and colors. Last year's event raised over $7,000 for the March of Dimes. (Echo staff photo by Jacqui Cochran)

Phone homework

Dial-A-Drill starts Monday

BY TRACI BONNEY

Doing homework by telephone?

Yes — in a way.

The Hancock County School System will start its Dial-A-Drill program Monday for Chapter I students. The voluntary program, which supplements a student's lessons in school, operates through the use of a computer that calls the child's home at a preset time on a designated day.

Marie Donald, Chapter I coordinator, said that when the computer calls, the student punches in his code, then selects one of four programs: spelling, for grades two through eight; reading, for grades one through four; practical reading, for grades five and up; or mental arithmetic, for grades one through eight.

The student responds to the computer's instructions and questions using a plastic overlay that indicates which phone

Voters are requested to submit questions in writing on a 3" x 5" index card to be presented at the door on the evening of the forum.

Chamber president Randy Castello will serve as moderator. For additional information, contact Olivia Roland, chamber executive director, 467-9048.

Optometrists help keep practice open

BY TRACI BONNEY

What started as a matter of economy has turned out to be a blessing for Liz Hanson.

Ten Coast optometrists have volunteered their time to help keep open Dr. John Hanson's practice in Bay St. Louis since his death several weeks ago. By running the office for Mrs. Hanson, they have given her time to find a buyer for the practice.

This altruistic effort is the result of an insurance company's sales pitch several years ago. Dr. John Adolph, who enlisted his colleagues' help, explained that a company tried to persuade local physicians to buy insurance that would keep their practices running in the event of a death or debilitating accident.

Deciding it was absurd to spend hundreds of dollars each year on the insurance, Adolph proposed that the doctors pitch in and help if the need arose. Twice in the past several years, Coast physicians have risen to the aid of doctors who suffered from accidents or heart attacks.

"Of all the doctors I asked to help with Dr. Hanson's office, not one turned me down," Adolph said. "There's a decent group of doctors down here."

The doctors involved in the running of the office are Adolph, Michael Quint, Barry Marshall, Jeffrey Perez, Roderick Fields, David Bourgeois, Craig Thomas, Stanley Newman, Lori Blackmer and Max Edrington.

Mrs. Hanson said the volunteers have been a godsend to her. "I came home from the hospital and it (the office) was taken care of. I was so relieved."

"I've never seen such selfless giving. It's very unusual," she commented.

She said the doctors work in shifts during the 3 1/2-day office schedule. In addition, office employee Anna Munson is handling much of the administrative work.

Mrs. Hanson's parents are assisting as well. Her father is searching for a buyer for the practice, while her mother volunteers time in the office.

Mrs. Hanson has, by law, six months to run the practice while she tries to sell it. If she hasn't found a buyer by then, she said, she will "sell it in parts — sell the equipment, furniture, patients' files, whatever."

That, however, is a last resort for her.

The 30-year-old mother of two small children said she is grateful to the doctors, family members, friends and acquaintances who are helping her throughout this traumatic period in her life.

While recovering from her loss, she is making plans for the future, plans that include returning to school, obtaining a degree and finding something to do to make a living.

Meanwhile, with the help of the doctors, her husband's practice goes on.

RSVP to accept applications for holiday baskets

Applications will be taken by Retired Senior Volunteer Program volunteers for holiday baskets and Toys for Tots, to be given by American Legion Post 77, St. Vincent de Paul (St. Clare Conference), St. Vincent de Paul (Our Lady of the Gulf), Hancock Medical Center and the Bay St. Louis Fire Department.

Applications will be taken from 9 a.m. to noon each Monday, Wednesday and Friday from Oct. 29 to Nov. 9 at the Community Action Agency, 300 Blaize Avenue, (next to Williams BBQ) in Bay St. Louis.

and one who showed a sense of what makes up the area, Cuevas said, Riemann "showed a lot of patience with our ignorance of his field of work."

Now that the company has been notified of its selection, the next step is for Prime Time to make preliminary sketches of ideas and present them to the council. Once a sketch is picked, it (or the idea it represents) will be refined and reworked until an acceptable logo results.

Cuevas said the city will retain the copyright to the logo, which the council wants to be flexible enough to be modernized in the future if need be. The logo will be used on several projects, from park identification signs to stationery.

If the project continues on schedule, the city should have its new schedule in time to start the new year, she added.

buttons to push in working on the lesson. Students in the reading program also use a workbook.

The computer gives a student about 60 seconds to answer each question in the six-to-eight-minute lesson. After the student responds, the computer tells him whether he's right or wrong, records the answer and prepares a report for the student's teacher.

Correct answers result in a comment of praise from the computer, such as "Great going!", while wrong answers prompt the computer to encourage the student to try again.

The student's Chapter I work is recorded on his report card with a mark of either S (satisfactory) or U (unsatisfactory).

A student in Dial-A-Drill can gain a month or more in academic progress for each month he is in the program.

The program, now in its second year, has an enrollment of 240 students. It started last year with 120.

Hancock County is the only school system in the state with Dial-A-Drill, Donald said, but officials from other Mississippi districts and from some out-of-state school systems have visited the county to learn more about it.

GULF COAST
MEMORIAL

Cemetery and Mausoleum

Located on the beautiful Mississippi Gulf Coast, on Longfellow Road at the Bay St. Louis-Waveland boundary line. Serving the Mississippi Gulf Coast and easily accessible from New Orleans.

Mississippi enters Space Age.

Every time a space shuttle carries astronauts into the heavens, we can be proud. The engines are studied and tested at NASA's Stennis Space Center in Hancock County.

Stennis was built in the early 1960s for the Saturn V rocket used in the Apollo moon program. Since then, the 13,480-acre center has become the home for NASA, state and federal agencies. About 5,500 people study space, ocean and earth sciences there.

Mississippi jumped deeper into space this year when NASA picked an unused nuclear power plant near Luka. The plant will be used to make a safer, stronger motor for the two boosters that carry the shuttle into space.

NASA plans to test the first motor at Stennis in 1994. It will be brought on a barge down the Tennessee-Tombigbee Waterway to the Gulf of Mexico, then to Hancock County. The tests will help astronauts reach Mars someday.

High speed air races fly over Stennis Air Park

The world's fastest motor sport comes to Bay St. Louis on Nov. 3 and 4 when more than 30 high-speed racing airplanes perform closed circuit pylon races at Stennis International Airport.

The racers will also be joined by a squadron of aerobatic airplanes, numerous military aircraft, and an array of antique, amateur-built, and commercial airplanes and helicopters.

The Great Gulf Coast Air Races and Air Show will feature the largest air show in Mississippi and the only air races in the southern United States.

The air races around towering pylons marking off the multi-sided race course will begin at noon on both Saturday and Sunday, Nov. 3 and 4 at Stennis International airport. The airport will be closed each day from noon to 4:30 p.m. for the races and air show.

Three classes of racers will compete in heats each day. The smaller Formula Vee racers, powered by Volkswagen engines, will hit speeds of over 170 miles per hour.

The aircraft will be flying 100 to 200 feet above the ground and will be in full view of the show crowd at all times. The experimental class racers will top 210 miles per hour while circling the three-mile course.

A dozen former military T-6 airplanes, the largest of the World War II single-engine trainers, will blast around the pylons at speeds in excess of 230 miles per hour.

The powerful radial engines of the T-6s will produce ground-shaking, ear-splitting sounds that will stir the most experienced and calmest race fan.

The race planes will come from Mississippi and Louisiana and the adjoining states of Alabama, Georgia, Florida, Tennessee, Arkansas, and Texas. Several of the pilots are from south Mississippi and south Louisiana.

Professional and amateur aerobatic pilots will thrill the crowd with a dazzling assortment of aerobatic routines and high-G maneuvers. The aerobatic planes will include specially designed aerobatic airplanes, several World War II airplanes, and modern military jet airplanes.

A special "Tribute to Vietnam Veterans" and a "Flight for Freedom" will be performed each day by air show pilots and aircraft to salute and commemorate those who fought to preserve freedom around the world.

Over a dozen modern military aircraft will be on static display, and several will perform aerial demonstrations each day.

The military aircraft will include T-2, T-6, T-28, T-34 and T-37 Trainers; TA-4 and T-38 Advanced Jet Trainers; and A-7, A-10, F-4 and F-15 Jet Fighters.

The largest airplanes will include the C-130 and C-141 cargo planes and the P-3 Submarine Hunter. The C-141, with a wing span of 168 feet, is the second largest cargo plane in the U.S. Air Force. Several military helicopters will also be on hand for display and flight demonstration.

Numerous food vendors will offer a large variety of specialty foods and beverages. Several airplanes and helicopters will offer rides before and after the races and air show each day.

The gates will open each day at 9 a.m. for inspection of the aircraft and to meet the pilots and their crews. The air race and air show will start at noon each day and concludes at 4:30 p.m.

The Great Gulf Coast Air Races and Air Show is sponsored by Experimental Aircraft Association Chapter 479 and the Gulf Coast Air Race Association. The current show is the 13th air show and the second air races held by the groups. The event is designed to promote aviation and provide family-oriented entertainment.

The large display of military aircraft offers an excellent educational opportunity for young people to see the aircraft which fought 50 years ago in World War II and those which today defend peace in the Middle East.

Admission is $6 for adults and $3 for children (6-12). Tickets are available at your nearest Ticket Master office or may be obtained by calling 467-3466 or 868-1231.

SHOPPING UP A STORM

By Katy McGuire Caire

That old-time, all-time Southern favorite, succulent roast pork, is especially welcome when there's a bit of nip in the air and the leaves have turned to their autumn dress.

And, equally welcome are the good prices on pork these days at our area supermarkets. In earlier years, pork was truly a sign of fall's arrival, as many cooks did not choose pork cuts during the hot months as too "heavy" and "fatty." But, with modern refrigeration and today's leaner pork, that's no longer the case.

But still to many of us, the pork roast really comes into its own in autumn, whether roasted in the oven with sweet potatoes and apples, perhaps, or braised atop the stove with vegetables and seasonings.

Whatever your choice, you won't go wrong budget-wise at the markets if it's one of the Boston butts or pork shoulder roasts "on special." Pork steaks are a help to the budget this week, as are assorted chops, also.

I like to brown a pork roast in a little butter atop the stove, then rub it with a mixture of butter, flour and brown sugar and Dijon mustard, along with black pepper and a bit of thyme, before putting it into the oven. Wine-braised pork is another especially tasty dish, as in this recipe from France, from a fine Paris restaurant called Au Gourmet de l'Isle, situated on the Ile St. Louis (by way of "Bon Appetit" magazine.) Here's:

WINE-BRAISED PORK WITH ONIONS

8 oz. thick bacon slices, cut into 1-inch pieces
2 lbs. pork shoulder, trimmed, cut into 1-inch pieces
2 cups dry white wine
1 (12 oz.) basket pearl onions, peeled
1 cup water
1 large carrot, cut into 1/2-inch thick slices
1 celery rib, cut into 1/2-inch thick slices

Bouquet Garni (4 fresh parsley sprigs, 2 thyme sprigs, 1 bay leaf, 8 whole black peppercorns)
Minced fresh parsley

Cook the bacon in heavy medium Dutch oven over medium heat until just golden, stirring frequently, for approximately 4 minutes. Transfer bacon to bowl, using slotted spoon. Add pork to Dutch oven and brown in batches.

Return bacon and all pork to Dutch oven, and add remaining ingredients except the minced parsley. Simmer uncovered until meat is tender, say 1 1/2 hours. Discard the bouquet garni. Divide pork and vegetables among 4 shallow soup bowls. Sprinkle with the minced parsley and serve with steamed new potatoes and toasted French bread. (Four servings)

Pork, as we all know pairs wonderfully with apples, and with autumn apples piled high in the produce bins, and at good prices, we're ready for tasty combinations.

Of course, apples are an all-time favorite just about anytime; but the McIntoshes, those wonderful juicy, slightly tart apples, and the Granny Smiths, also on the tart side, are among my favorites. And they've arrived at our stores.

Washington State Fancy Red Delicious apples are also in good supply at the stores. So, let's cook up a combination, especially tasty for serving with pork, also delicious with chicken entrees (and chicken breasts, split breast and quarters are a bargain just now, as are leg quarters and wings.) Here's:

SAUTÉED APPLES, ONIONS AND RAISINS
Heat a bit of bacon fat or oil in your skillet. Add four peeled and quartered medium yellow onions and four red apples, cut into quarters or slices. Saute for five minutes, then cover and continue cooking for another five minutes before adding 1/3 cup of raisins.

Cook slowly, uncovered, until apples and onions are tender, stirring occasionally. (Four servings)

Beef cuts are specially attractive to the savvy shopper this week, with special buys on center cut chuck roasts and round steaks, as well as sirloin tip roasts and steaks, and sirloins steaks.

Whole briskets are a featured item at the meat counters again this week.

And don't pass up the vegetables. The other day, I came across tiny fresh brussels sprouts, still on the stalk, in the vegetable bin at one of the markets. Although they aren't my favorite vegetables, those "little cabbages" as they are known, were just too fresh and green to pass up! Briefly steamed and seasoned with the pepper and a dash of salt and Italian seasonings, they were quite tasty.

Fresh spinach, one of my favorites for salad, and fresh mushrooms beckon the shopper, along with squashes of all sorts. And don't forget, it's almost Jack O'Lantern time, so choose your pumpkins now, and start thinking about the ways you'll use the leftover Jack O'up after the Halloween festivities are over.

Volunteers needed
by R.S.V.P.

One of the most productive organizations in Hancock County is the Retired Senior Volunteer Program (RSVP).

Approximately 415 Hancock County RSVP members, age 60 and over, volunteer for all types of tasks.

In recent months, there has been a tremendous need for volunteers with office experience, according to JoAnn Lagasse, executive director.

Lagasse has a waiting list of non-profit organizations and groups in need of volunteers with office experience.

RSVP volunteers work at many of the places familiar with most folks, such as the schools, city hall, chamber of commerce, United Way campaign, hospital, welcome center, libraries and the list goes on and on.

Some volunteers work only three or four hours a week, while others work maybe a half a day, two or three times a week. There is no set amount of time a person may help with RSVP projects. They must work one hour a month to be registered as an RSVP volunteer.

RSVP volunteers are generous persons wishing to help their communities. Worthwhile contributions of time are given by these people, who make new friends along the way.

Persons interested in joining RSVP may contact Lagasse at 467-9204.

"QUOTABLE QUOTES"

By Ellis C. Cuevas

When I attended the Oberammergau Passion Play in July, I was unaware that two of the participants were grandchildren of Caroline Aguzin of Waveland.

The participants were Ryan and Jessica Lommel, who resided in Oberammergau, Germany, while their father was stationed at the NATO school.

One thing I have to say for Oberammergau, although I was only in the quaint village of 5,000 for one day, it was beautiful.

The Passion Play was the highlight of our two weeks, which included five countries.

Who knows, maybe we will try again to see the play the next time the performances are scheduled in the year of 2000.

In addition to family members of the two youngsters, I know of several folks from the area who also attended the play which has been held every ten years since 1634.

It is good to see our younger generation take an interest in patriotism.

The program held at the Charles B. Murphy school on October 12 to honor our servicemen who are in the Middle East area was really an affair.

In my research to do the Echo Archives I run across many events which were held at our schools in days gone by that involved the student bodies as well as their parents.

Patriotism is sometimes forgotten by some folks; however, pride in our nation is at its strongest when instilled in our children at an early age.

CBM Principal Clemetine Williams should be complemented for her outstanding program.

I am sure the CBM students will always remember their Yellow Ribbon Day at school and the importance of thinking about those who are in uniform.

Education—A problem for all

How do parents of school-age children feel about education? There is new documentation which answers that question.

The documentation reveals that 96 percent of parents of children in the public schools of America are dissatisfied with the education their children are receiving.

Surveys of Mississippi business and community leaders have followed the same pattern.

The national survey, sponsored by the United States Chamber of Commerce, says that all Americans share the same problem; we all want better education for our children.

For Mississippi, the survey suggests that we have the opportunity to take the lead nationally if we can just get on with the business of solving our educational problems at home. The effort is well under way.

From the Governor's office to the Legislature, to the education community, to the parents and students, the effort to improve education in Mississippi is being made.

Now is the time to make a commitment to that effort. Now is the time for Mississippi to show the way for the rest of America.

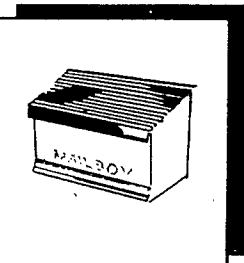

We can do it.

Bay High Athletic Club

Dear Editor,

During the past few months, Bay High students, faculty, and administration have been overwhelmed by the change of environment and school spirit on our campus.

What has caused this improving change? No other than the Bay High Athletic Club. This club has helped school spirit and sport activities 100 percent. Without them, not as many students would attend pep rallies, games, and school activities.

The Athletic Club sponsored one of the most important school activities in the year—homecoming. Without their support homecoming would not have been such a huge success. On behalf of the Bay High Student Council, I would like to publicly thank them for all the effort put into planning and carrying out the pep rally, game, and the homecoming dance. Their hard work has definitely paid off for the students. This past homecoming celebration will be forever remembered.

However, their greatest accomplishment is the cheerful environment they create with their colorful advertisements with beautifully painted signs and printed T-shirts. Without all of these things and their support, who knows where Bay High's school spirit would be.

Sincerely,
Jessica Johnson

REPORTBy Senator
Thad CochranCochran on Middle East crisis, farm funding

U. S. Senator Thad Cochran praised Mississippi troops called for duty in the Middle East crisis during a Washington news conference.

"Our troops have a reputation for being able to get the job done," he said. "they're reliable, patriotic, well-trained and equipped. We are willing to do our part."

The Mississippi Senator said continued international cooperation will convince Sadaam Hussein that he cannot win a war in the Middle East and that he must withdraw from Kuwait.

"I think this will be the inevitable result of an effective economic embargo and the strong military presence that has been made more powerful with the assistance of other countries joining us in that effort," he added.

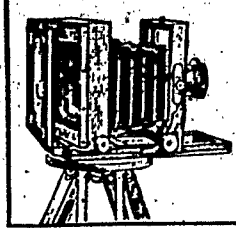

"He cannot be permitted to benefit from the use of military aggression."

The impact on the Middle East situation on oil and gas prices will require the United States to examine alternative energy sources such as solar and nuclear power, Cochran said.

"The further development of our energy resources will be very helpful to us in the long run," he said.

During the interview with Mississippi radio news reporters, Cochran also said he expects passage of the Fiscal Year 1991 agriculture appropriations bill.

The funding bill includes more than $1 billion dollars for Mississippi, including nearly $54 million dollars for research programs at Mississippi universities and Department of Agriculture facilities.

Dr. M.J. (Sonny) Wolfe Jr. has been elected to serve as the 1981 executive director of Our Lady of the Gulf Carnival Association. He has been active in the church and association for many years.

Reflections

On Life

By Father Jerome
LeDoux, SVD

Our strange inconsistencies

A husband, wife and children walk up to you, obviously paupers and beggars. They begin to state their case immediately, but your eyes are distracted by the quaint sight of three small children sitting in a shopping cart—a Winn Dixie shopping cart.

Flashbacks begin to register in rapid succession: a lady parading down the street with a Delchamps cart; a man pushing a load of clothes in a National cart; children running around with a curious assortment of carts from all the nearby supermarkets.

One's first reaction is of deep resentment against all those who graze on grapes and sundry in the supermarkets, who break open boxes of crackers and jam a few down, who pilfer whatever is loose and can be readily concealed in some way, and who push away carts and all that is not chained down or otherwise secured.

Naturally, the resentment comes from the elementary fact that someone is going to pay for all the grazing and pilfering. And you guessed it: those someones are all the honest people who are trying to keep their noses clean, but who are penalized by the numerous parasites who spy on them for purposes of predation and who force them to pay for their thieving ways.

Adding insult to injury, some of these same predators now come up and beg alms or some kind of help.

Having hurt the pocketbook of the honest by an indirect assault, they are brazen enough to mount a frontal attack on the modest resources of their prey.

To make matters worse, they look and act thoroughly insulted if anyone refuses to contribute to their cause.

It is understandable that law-abiding people sometimes have bitter feelings against such parasites. However, upon further scrutiny and self-examination, we have to ask whether we are not being a bit hypocritical in our attitude toward them.

For one thing, think of the "law-abiding" people who are offended by the brazenness of the parasites, yet who will not hesitate to buy something "hot" from them at a bargain price.

Somehow, the fact that the hot items have filtered through one or more pairs of hands between the purchaser and the real owner seems to wash them of their illegal condition.

Another negative aspect of perhaps most law-abiding citizens is the combination of fear, permissiveness and apathy which constantly plagues them. Sometimes it is fear which holds them back from getting involved when lawbreakers are at work. "It's none of my business. If I get involved, I may get hurt. Lest I be bitten, I will let sleeping dogs lie."

At other times, it is the laissez-faire attitude which simply allows people to do virtually whatever they have in mind to do. "Live and let live. If I don't disturb other people in their affairs, then maybe they will leave me alone too."

Mostly, and sadly, it is just plain old apathy which stands between us and some kind of intervention where wrongs are being perpetrated.

So what if people are grazing in the supermarkets? So what if they swipe a loose item or even a cart here and there? It is the responsibility of the management to control them.

What is not being said here is that many of the most "law-abiding" persons are also guilty of tinier infractions of grazing, pilfering and not reporting such pieces of "good fortune" such as receiving more change than is their due.

When Jesus said, "let him who is without sin cast the first stone" (Jn. 8: 7), he was stepping on all our toes.

CES trustees installed

Coast Episcopal Schools recently celebrated the installation and blessing of the newly elected board of trustees of Coast Episcopal Schools in a service held at Trinity Episcopal Church in Pass Christian.

The service was conducted by the Reverend Bronson Bryant, rector of Trinity Episcopal Church. The Reverend Jon A. Caridad, headmaster of Coast Episcopal School, assisted and gave the sermon.

Chairman of the board of trustees is Reilly Stonecipher of Pass Christian, vice-chairman is Betty Diboll, and secretary is Patty Hourin, both of Bay St. Louis. Treasurer is Jerry Hlass of Long Beach.

Other members of the board are Betty Benvenuti, Susan Carra and Mark Uram of Bay St. Louis; Dr. Ron Bernadas; Martha Levert, Holt Montgomery, Dan Mortimer, Marlene Saccoccia, Kathleen Theriot and Alice Tor of Pass Christian.

Dr. Alton Dauterive is a member of the board of trustees from Long Beach; and also Mimi Salloum from Gulfport and Bill Kulick from Ocean Springs.

Trustee Emeritus is The Reverend Charles Johnson of Bay St. Louis.

Students from Coast Episcopal Elementary School and Coast Episcopal High School participated in the service. Readers were sixth graders Courtney Hopper, Kippy Chamberlain and senior Damion Lawyer. Oblation bearers were sophomores Randy Hartwell and Penny Lambert.

Father Caridad, in his sermon, said, "Coast Episcopal School performs a mission of education to the community, providing a place where quality and excellence can be coupled with the teaching of religious and moral values.

"These days, quality education does not know denominational boundaries. Coast Episcopal is a Christian school because we hold in constant balance the two vital signs of a healthy school; a willingness to deal with matters of faith and morals while providing quality education," said Caridad.

A reception in the court yard, hosted by Trinity's Pre-School faculty, followed the service.

Goodwill serves community with retail stores, job training program

Goodwill Industries of South Mississippi was founded in 1974. A few years later, Goodwill opened a retail store in Bay St. Louis, thereby expanding its mission of providing jobs and job training to people with disabilities into Hancock County.

Goodwill operates its main processing and three retail stores on the Mississippi Gulf Coast to assist people with disabilities and other disadvantaged conditions to become self-sufficient and move from welfare and disability assistance to a more independent existence.

Over the years, Goodwill has provided hundreds of individuals with this help and has generated millions of dollars in wages and fringe benefits to these individuals and the economy of the Gulf Coast.

The retail store in Bay St. Louis has developed over the years, moving three times to bigger and better quarters and expanding its ability to collect donations and give its retail customers a better selection of clothing and other items to buy.

The retail store moved this year to the Bay St. Louis Mall to a location offering more than double the size and stock of merchandise.

"If you haven't seen Goodwill lately you haven't seen Goodwill" is appropriate for our local Goodwill," said executive director Leroy Modenbach.

Goodwill survives through the community's assistance and support. Goodwill depends on citizens to supply it with donations and shop in its retail store. United Way contributions make up the difference in Goodwill's budget between the income Goodwill realizes through its sales operation and the income necessary to fund its program.

Anyone with questions about Goodwill or wishing to donate items may call the retail store at 467-7277.

Rappold seeks re-election as Waveland Ward 1 alderman

Waveland Ward One alderman Barbara Rappold, 56, announces her intention to seek re-election to her present post.

Rappold, who has served as alderman for the past 12 years, currently teaches in the Pass Christian Public School System as a teacher-coach, teaching physical education and computer literacy, and coaching the girls' basketball team.

She is a former city secretary for Waveland, having served under Garfield Ladner. She was also co-owner and operator of the Dixie Belle's Bakery on Coleman Avenue. Prior to moving to Waveland from New Orleans in 1970, she taught in New Orleans Catholic and public schools for 10 years.

Born in New Orleans, Rappold is the daughter of Henry F. and Elmyra Z. Rappold of Waveland. She was educated in New Orleans-Catholic and public schools, and is a graduate of St. Mary's Dominican College with a bachelor of science degree in physical education.

She conducted her post-graduate studies in computers at William Carey College, and received city clerk certification from Mississippi State University. She also holds international clerk certification through the International Institute of Municipal Clerks.

She is a member of the Mississippi Municipal Association and has served on the association's executive board. She was also a member and officer of the now-disbanded Gulf Coast Municipal Officers Association. Rappold has worked with many civic organizations, including the Waveland Civic Association, Chamber of Commerce, Altrusa Club and American Legion Post #77. She is also a 20-year member of the Nereids Carnival Club and has served as its queen, as well as being the first queen of the Triton parade.

"It has indeed been a rewarding experience to serve on the board of mayor and aldermen for the City of Waveland and watch it grow from a sleepy little town to a thriving, progressive municipality. I will always be grateful to my constituents for allowing me to play such an important part in the history of Waveland's growth.

"It has been my good fortune to meet, make friends, and to serve the people of the First Ward for the past 12 years. My door, my heart and my ears have always been open to you as I have tried to serve you loyally.

"We are about to undertake a large project in the First Ward. The city will be severing the area north of the railroad track and installing a new water well and elevated water tower in the area. This has taken quite a bit of work, and I would ask that you allow me to supervise this undertaking by re-electing me to my fourth term as your alderman.

"You will not see my name on the ballot in the Democratic primary. As I explained in an earlier statement, I will run this time as your 'independent' candidate. My name will be on the ballot in the general election in December 4, and I ask for your support at that time."

Harris announces candidacy for Ward 3 alderman

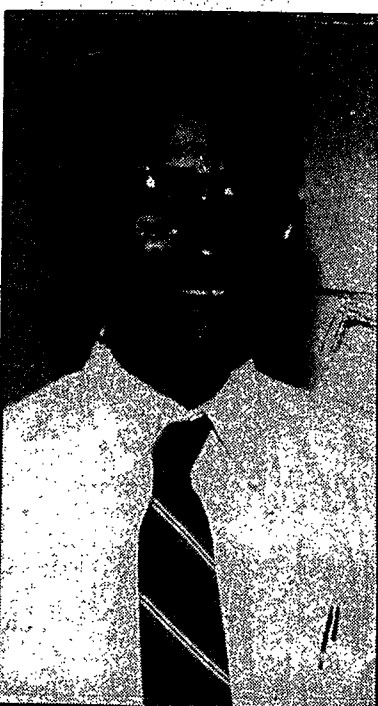

Waveland resident Clarence Harris, 42, announces his candidacy for the position of Ward Three Alderman.

A deliveryman for 15 years for Williams Wrecking Co. at the John C. Stennis Space Center, Harris is a graduate of Valena C. Jones High School. He attended Rock Island Technical College in Rock Island, Ill., and Pearl River Vocational-Technical.

He has been involved in community service for 18 years and serves as president of the Waveland Improvement Project. He is also a member of the Hancock County NAACP and Macedonia Baptist Church.

He and his wife, Debra, have four children: Roderick, Kimberly, John and Querita.

"If elected, I will wholeheartedly work with the board of aldermen and the mayor to see that needs are met," he said.

Can Arthritis Really Be Cured?

It's a simple question, one we've asked all the time. The answer is yes. And no.

The first thing we need to find out is what kind of arthritis you have. As in all fields of medicine, making the right diagnosis comes before prescribing the right treatment.

As rheumatologists, we're M.D.s trained and Board Certified in Internal Medicine and, in Dr. Marilise Sednitski's case, in Pediatrics as well. After completing the extensive training required to become a "primary care physician" (e.g. Internist, Pediatrician, Family Practitioner), a physician must dedicate at least two more years studying arthritis and immune diseases to become a rheumatologist.

That time is spent recognizing and treating the dozens of different types of arthritis. And by narrowing the field of study to one area, it becomes possible to keep up with all the research into new treatments of these crippling diseases.

Working with your primary care doctor, we may be able to get your arthritis under control and prevent it from doing further damage. And if yours is one of the curable forms of arthritis, such as Lyme Disease, then of course the news is even better.

SSC earns first play-off berth in football

Rocks down Warriors

Special to the Echo
BY TOM ACKERMAN
With their 13-7 win over the visiting d'Iberville Warriors Friday at SSC stadium, the St. Stanislaus Rock-A-Chaws have claimed the runner up spot in District VIII-4a and a berth in the post season playoffs.

For the first time since the Rocks began district play, they've made it over the hump and will advance to the District VIII-4A playoffs against South Pike.

"It took us four years for this," the obviously proud Rock head coach Ken Lyons said after the game. "I'm elated," he added.

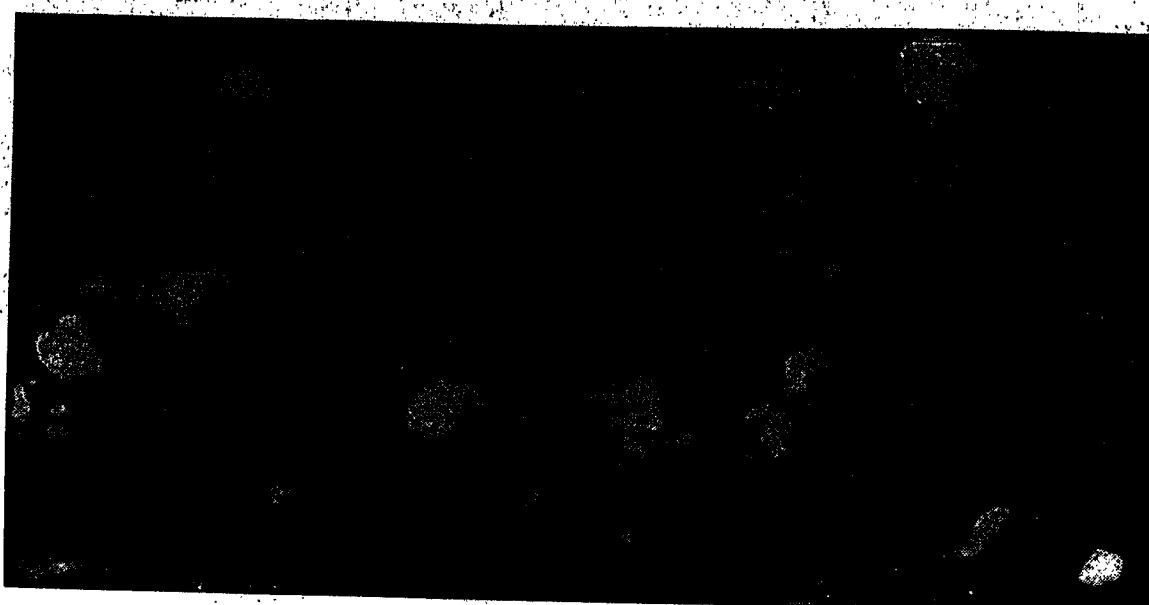

"Our kids worked hard for this, and I'm proud of them. They showed a lot of character," he continued.

The victory over d'Iberville brings the Rocks to 6-2 overall, and 3-1 in the district.

The tough Rock-A-Chaw defense held d'Iberville to 144 yards total offense, while the Rock offense garnered 205 yards. On the ground, the Rocks moved the ball 145 yards to the Warriors' 53.

The Rocks drew first blood on an 11-play drive starting at the d'Iberville 40 and culminating with a 7-yard run by junior full back Tate Thriffley with 3:09 showing on the first quarter clock. Robbie Bourgeois kicked for the point after to give SSC an early 7-0 lead.

Late in the third period, the Warriors scored on a run by Matthew Gough, but the kick after failed.

The Rock-A-Chaws countered with another TD, once again by Thriffley, from the 2. The kick failed, but the 13-6 score held for the Rocks.

The Rocks won the toss to start the game, but deferred to the Warriors. Holding d'Iberville to one series that went nowhere on tackles by Galen Smith and Sal Palmisano, and a quarterback sack by Kerry Wittmann, the Rocks took over at the d'Iberville 40.

On the opening play, Thriffley moved to the 36. After a penalty that moved the Rocks back to midfield, Brien Martin connected on a Bill Dreher pass, moving the ball to the 43.

Dreher kept on the next play, moving to the 30, and Thriffley carried for the first down at the 29.

Ken Booker picked up five yards, and Mike Lee got the call on the next four plays, picking up a first down and moving the ball to the 13. Booker followed with another gain of 7, to set up the run by Thriffley for the score with 3:09 left in the first quarter. Bourgeois's kick put the Rocks ahead 7-0.

On d'Iberville's next series, key tackles were logged by Palmisano and Scott Peterson, with a play-saving pass block by Rock safety Paul Johnson that held the Warriors at their own 47. The following pass was broken up by Mickey Quinlan, and the Warriors were forced to punt.

Following the Warriors' score, the Rocks answered with a nine-play drive that began at their own 39. On the kickoff, Booker returned the ball to the 39 to start the series.

The key play came when the Rocks were facing a 20 yard

Pirates overpower Long Beach

Special to the Echo
BY PATRICK MCKEE

A fourth quarter TD and a field goal gave the Pass Christian Pirates a hard fought 16-7 victory over the Long Beach Bearcats. The outcome of the game was in question until then due to a determined effort by both teams.

"I am real pleased with the win," said Pirate head coach Joseph Brown. "We were not as sharp as we should have been."

The Pirate offense had a tough time scoring during the first half due to a strong Bearcat defense and faulty execution.

With 4:12 remaining in the first quarter Willie Earl Washington charged into the end zone on a 4-yard run to give the Pirates 6 points. The 2-point conversion try unsuccessful.

The Bearcats refused to give up any more points to the Pirates for the remainder of the first half. Penalties hampered both teams from making any progress.

Then with just 37 seconds left in the second quarter, Long Beach got on the scoreboard when quarterback Donald Lyons dove into the end zone. The extra point was good when Chris Kennie kicked the ball through the goalpost.

With the score 7-6 at half-time, coach Brown had just two words to say: "No execution."

School board member Richard Cuevas who was standing on the sidelines predicted a rough and tumble second half. "Anytime these two teams get together, you are going to have a good game," he said.

His words were prophetic.

The third quarter was a bruising battle between the two determined teams. Sounds of shoulder pads colliding could be heard as the Bearcats and the Pirates fought up and down the field. In the fourth quarter with 10:49 left in the game, Pirate quarterback Tracey Watts zeroed in on wide receiver Burnell Dedeaux for a 27-yard touchdown pass. Eldon Daniels kicked for the PAT to give them a 13-7 edge. The stadium literally shook from the roar of the Pirate fans.

The Bearcats refused to give up the game even after Eldon Daniels kicked a field goal with 5:26 left to play in the game. With just seconds left they threatened to score, but time ran out, and the Pirates had a 16-7 victory.

"Our kids played a hard fought game," said Bearcat head coach Jay McCormick.

Yellow Jackets sting Tigers

Special to the Echo
BY BURT TAYLOR

The Bay High Tigers helped St. Martin celebrate homecoming as they dropped their seventh game in eight outings, 28-0 Friday night at St. Martin.

The Yellow Jackets opened the scoring with 7:11 remaining in the first period as QB Josh Layton hit Randy Brimage with a pass from 3 yards out for the score.

The PAT was good and St. Martin led 7-0.

The next scoring came after the Yellow Jackets recovered a Tiger fumble on the Tiger 23. Three plays later Layton snuck over from the three.

The PAT once again was good to give St. Martin a 14-0 lead. A 21 yard screen pass from Tiger QB Charlie Mitchell to Romalles Wilkerson moved the ball to the 28.

The next play ended the first half as the Tigers tried a flea flicker which found Marcel Whovers wide open in the end zone, but the pass came up short.

The score at the half was 14-0 in favor of Yellow Jackets.

St. Martin scored on the last play of the third quarter on a two yard run by Demetries Mosley.

The last score came with 1:39 remaining on a 1 yard run by running back Tito Galloway.

There weren't too many bright spots for the Tigers, although defensively Charlie Mitchell had an interception, Kris Barlow and Jeff Hoppood each had sacks, and Barlow also recovered a fumble.

The 1-7 Tigers entertain the Hancock High Hawks next Friday night at J.D. McCulloch stadium.

Kick off time is 7:30.

Your Hometown Newspaper

In anticipation of the beginning of our 100th year of service to the citizens of Hancock County, we are going to go back in time to bring you the lowest subscription rates since the 1970s. As with everything else, the days of the two-cent newspaper and 15-cent a gallon gasoline have gone with the winds of progress. A 15-cent newspaper is almost unheard of today, but you have the opportunity to get one (local delivery areas elsewhere slightly higher) for up to two years if you act quickly.

The Sea Coast Echo has grown and prospered during these past 99 years only because you, the public chose to support us with advertising, news, and a never ending spirit of cooperation that is typical of every Hancock Countyman, native or transplanted. For this we sincerely thank you and earnestly solicit your continued support during our next century of service.

Effective October 18, 1990 through November 19, 1990, The Echo will reduce its subscription prices across the board for new subscribers only. Rates to be in effect during this period only are shown in the box below. All new subscriptions are limited to a maximum of two (2) years at reduced rates. Rate reductions also apply to new gift subscriptions.

Wayne County jinxes Hawks

Snap second winning string

Special to the Echo
BY BELINDA LILES

The Wayne County War Eagles accomplished a big feat Friday night as they beat the Hancock Hawks by the score of 14-7.

This same team snapped Hancock's winning streak last year, they were more than happy to grab the win from the number four ranked Hawks once again.

When asked about the game Coach Irvin Favre replied, "You saw two good teams playing out here tonight and we have nothing to be ashamed of. Wayne County out weighed us by an average of 10-15 pounds per man. They played us as tough as we thought they would. Both defensive units played very well tonight."

Hancock got on the score board first after the War Eagles fumbled on a punt return.

Bobby Doyle recovered the ball on the Wayne County 25. Hawk running back Jeron Vince ran for 4 to the 21.

Hancock then drew an offside penalty making it second-and-eleven from the 26. Half back Terrance Goff got the five yards back as he returned to the 21.

Two plays later on a fourth down from the 20, Goff caught a Regan Ladner pass for a 17 yard pickup leaving the ball on the 3.

It took Hancock three tries before the War Eagle defense finally gave way and Goff scored for the Hawks.

Gabe Lumpkin added the PAT giving the Hawks a 7-0 edge.

Due to the fine defensive play on both sides the score remained the same until midway through the third quarter when Wayne County's quarterback Robert Morgan connected with split end Ira Leggins for a forty five yard touchdown bomb.

The PAT was good and the game tied at 7.

In the fourth quarter both offensive units came alive as midway through the quarter Hancock had moved the ball down to the Eagle 25.

A Hawk pass was picked off by a Wayne County defensive back giving the War Eagles control.

Wayne County had moved the ball to the Hancock 49 when on third-and-eleven Eagle quarterback Morgan called an option around the left end.

After a few missed tackles and some fancy foot work Morgan scampered for 49 yards and ended up in the end zone.

The PAT was good making the final score 14-7 with Wayne County on top.

Coach Favre added, "A lot of people didn't know that Wayne County was a 5A team. Three of the boys on their squad, quarterback Robert Morgan and running backs Rick Ballard and Harold Frost, are major college prospects. This is an indication of how good this team really is."

"We just didn't score when we had the opportunity. We really had them shut down except for those two scoring plays," commented Coach Tim Favre.

"Bobby Doyle had a terrific night on defense with 14 solo tackles, four assists, two fumble recoveries, one interception and a quarterback sack. Radley Ladner, Jeff Favre and Richard Simmons also heavily contributed to defensive action," Tim Favre added.

The Hawks travel to Bay High next Friday.

deficit for the first down on a second down situation, time running out in the third quarter.

On the first play of the final period, Dreher found Mickey Quinlan open for a 32-yarder that moved the ball to the 4.

Lee carried to the 3. A penalty against the Warriors set the ball a foot and a half from the line, and Thriffley carried across for the score with 10:59 left in the game.

With 1:30 left in the game, the Warriors began their final attempt to even the score at the Stanislaus 45. On first down, Peterson sacked d'Iberville quarterback Conrad Hamel for a five yard loss. And Galen Smith covered a pass reception, followed by another pass broken up by Lee on fourth and 16 to end the Warriors' final drive.

"Pass Christian did what it takes to win."

"Long Beach did a fine job," said Pirate head coach Joseph Brown. "Their coach did a good job."

"We have to get our mental game in better shape. I felt that we should have a more potent offense. We can move the ball on any play, but we have to get mentally back."

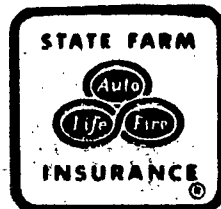

Brown praised the work of his defense. When asked what he would concentrate on next week during practice, Brown said, "Blocking and tackling."

"We came back," said assistant coach Glenn Williams. "We did what we had to do."

Next Friday Pass Christian will host Vandeave. The game begins at 7:30 p.m.

CLUBS, AUXILIARIES

Diamondhead Garden Club

President Gerri Garberg called the Oct. 17, Diamondhead Garden Club meeting to order and called upon Faye Johnson to read the Collect, followed by recitation of the Pledge of Allegiance.

Guests were introduced by Betty Cutler, and Virginia Valigorsky gave a review of the procedure for becoming a member.

Projects reported upon included holiday fashion show and ways and means, Lee Fredian; Christmas gift for the Women's Crisis Center, Joann Powell; and the Oct. 25 picnic will be at the home of Grace Finley.

Kathy McFaul reported the Diamondhead Property Owners Association general manager Paul Montjoy is looking into a plot of land on which the garden club may plant wildflowers.

McFaul urged all members who could to add wildflowers to their gardens either by transplanting or seed. Some of these could then be used when the plot of ground is ready for planting.

Bertha Morris gave seasonal horticulture tips, while Alice Brameyer presented flower show tips. These included comments on color, form, texture, space, line and pattern, as well as six basic principles to adhere to in preparing an entry.

Garden of the Month award went to Larry and Ruth Tabordon on Apaki Place; Golf Course Yard of the Month to Mike and Gale Russo on the No. 15 Cardinal Tee area.

Margaret Hill, garden therapist, is collecting canned goods and non-perishable items for the Hancock County Food Pantry. Members were asked to bring these items to the Nov. 14 meeting.

Garberg thanked hostesses Yvonne Luck and Olive Ruth. Following a brief recess, Brierly Acker introduced speaker Grace Finley. She gave a very informative talk on the art of Bonsai, including a brief history of Bonsai.

Finley showed six samples of this interesting form of tray planting, using plants as well as diagrams to show the various shapes.

She demonstrated the steps in planting a "tree" in order to begin a Bonsai plant.

Following the program, Gerri Garberg reminded members they may check Channel 27 for meeting dates and times.

Annunciation Senior Citizens

The Senior Citizens of Annunciation Parish, Kiln, held their monthly covered dish luncheon on Wednesday, Oct. 17, at noon. A delicious buffet, desserts and soft drinks were served and enjoyed by all 28 members in attendance.

Members celebrating October birthdays were Bessie Necaise, Howard Edwards and Clara Hoila.

Blood pressures were taken by Edna Harrington and Nell Seagers, RNs.

On Nov. 7 members will enjoy a trip to the New Orleans Aquarium of the Americas via Coastliner and lunch at Morrison's Cafeteria.

A social followed the luncheon, games were played and door prizes awarded.

The next luncheon will be Nov. 14 in the parish center. Call Estelle Depreo or the rectory for information.

Mississippi Nurses

Mississippi's registered nurses will meet in Jackson Oct. 31 to Nov. 2 for the Mississippi Nurses Association's annual convention. Theme is "If caring were enough, anyone could be a nurse. Nursing plus knowledge—Nurse."

Hundreds of RNs will be at the Ramada Inn Coliseum in Jackson to discuss the nursing shortage, and other nursing concerns. Melodie Chenevert, noted keynote speaker, Beth Vaughn-Wrobel, president-elect of Sigma Theta Tau, and Virginia Trotter Betts, first vice president of the American Nurses Association are the featured speakers.

More than 100 product and recruiter exhibitors are scheduled for the event which will be held in conjunction with the Mississippi Association of Student Nurses.

A special addition to this year's convention is a pre-convention workshop, "Overcoming Depression," on Wednesday. Continuing education in nursing courses will be offered during the three-day event. Special interest nursing groups are also scheduled to meet on Friday, Nov. 2.

For information on the convention, call MNA at 982-9182, Jackson.

Sierra Club

The October 25 program of the Sierra Club will be a major public information forum on wetlands. This is a critical issue to the Mississippi coast. Perhaps 50 percent of Jackson County could be classified as wetlands, laying restrictions on its use and development.

All points of view will be given fair representation. The agenda includes:

Art Hosey, from the Mobile District Corps of Engineers, Regulatory Branch;

Roy E. Dedeaux, chairman of the Committee for Wetlands Awareness;

Larry Goldman, field supervisor, U. S. Fish and Wildlife Service, from Daphne, Ala.;

W. J. Hunt, tax assessor, Jackson County, and Bob Hutson, director of environmental assistance with the Mississippi Farm Bureau Federation;

Ed Cake, Sierra Club wetlands expert. Congressional candidates Gene Taylor and Sheila Smith will have representatives there to state their positions, followed by questions, answers and rebuttals.

The public is invited to the free presentation at the Marine Education Center in Biloxi (located south of Hwy. 90 just before crossing the bridge to Ocean Springs) at 7:30 p.m., Thursday, Oct. 25. For more information call 435-2623 or 865-1508.

Kiln VFW Auxiliary 6285

President Estelle Depreo of the Ladies Auxiliary Post 6285, Kiln, called the October 16 meeting to order at 7 p.m., followed by the roll call of officers by secretary Mildred Lee.

Acting chaplain Aloise Shiyon read the opening prayer. The Pledge of Allegiance was recited by all.

The minutes of the September meeting were read by the secretary and accepted as read.

Nicky Harmon was presented a plaque of appreciation from the auxiliary.

Five-, 10-, 15- and 25-year pins will be given to members at the November meeting.

Community activities projects for the month of October, sponsored by the auxiliary, were $100 given to North Central Elementary students' attendance program and $100 to the senior citizens group of the community.

Auxiliary members attending the VA Hospital of Gulfport carnival held on Oct. 10 were Bessie Lee, Myrle Dunhurst, Mabel Moran, Anna M. Cuevas, Verdille Kilnor, Aloise Shiyon, Nell Sanford and Estelle Depreo.

The meeting adjourned with the closing prayer, and the next meeting will be Nov. 20 at 7 p.m. followed by a covered dish supper.
